SOCCER AID

On Friday, children were invited to dress in sports cloths for Soccer Aid for UNICEF 2022.

Children had the option of joining a special penalty shoot out competition let by Mrs. Thorneywork and Mr. Relis. Prizes were awarded to the children that scored the most goals and to children who showed fabulous sportsmanship by cheering their friends, encouraging one another and treating other players with respect.

All the money raised from our competition will help UNICEF's work around the world, so that children everywhere can have the childhoods they deserve. Well done to all of our winners and thank you to everyone who contributed to this good cause.

UNICEF Soccer Aid

Soccer Aid for UNICEF 2022 was officially a record-breaker, raising an incredible £15,673,728 – the most in Soccer Aid history! All the money raised will help UNICEF's work around the world, so that children everywhere can have the childhoods they deserve.

Your Support Helps Children Around the World

Childhood should be one endless playtime. We support UNICEF in wanting every child to be in school, learning and playing with their friends. We want every child to have access to safe, clean, water. We want every child to have the health care and nutrition they need to grow up happy, healthy, and able to play.

But there has never been a more challenging time for children. Right now, they are facing conflict, disasters, and other crises in countries around the world. And it is children that are often hardest hit – like the 7.5 million children currently affected by the war in Ukraine. They risk losing their homes, their families, and their schools. They lose the ability to just be kids.

UNICEF is delivering "Blue Dot" safe spaces along refugee routes, providing access to water and medical supplies, mental health support, and – even in a crisis like this – a place to rest and play.

The money raised from this year's game could help UNICEF provide vaccines, fight malnutrition, and provide safe spaces to protect children in times of crisis, helping kids get back to the childhoods they are entitled to.

And it could do so much more to allow kids to simply be kids.

Nursery & Reception On the Beach

As part of our topic 'On the beach' we've been exploring the fantastic rhyming story, 'The Singing Mermaid' by Julia Donaldson. The children had a go at making their own mermaid pictures decorated with shells. We also spent some time thinking what a mermaid's tail would feel like to touch and came up with some great vocabulary - scaly, slimy, smooth, wet, bumpy and rough! The children then explored some fresh whole fish, taking time to feel the skin. This led to us learning some new words - iridescent, sparkly, shimmery. We then used the fish to make some prints using an old Japanese art technique called gyotaku.

Nursery & Reception

Gyotaku is the traditional Japanese method of printing fish, a practice which dates back to the mid-1800s. This form of nature printing was used by fishermen to record their catches.

Dinosaur Planet Year 1/2/3

This week in Maths the children have investigated the question 'Were all dinosaurs taller than humans?' Building on our learning in Maths about measuring length, they worked in pairs to accurately measure the lengths and heights of a range of dinosaurs. They then compared these to their own height which enabled them to visualise the actual size of these creatures when they were once roaming the earth.

We discovered that not all dinosaurs were taller than humans! The smallest dinosaur (The Compsognathus) measured only 25cm in height and 1 metre in length!

Year 4/5/6 Shakespeare Week

We are proud to be an Associate School with The Royal Shakespeare Company. Every year, we have an opportunity to take part in a Playmaking Festival.

This year's festival explores Much Ado About Nothing. The children had a fantastic day working through Beatrice and Benedick's fight in Act 1 Scene 1 of the play with a Director Mentor from the RSC, Roberta Zuric.

The children were already familiar with the text from their English lessons, but they had fun trying different rehearsal room techniques in preparation for their performance as part of the Playmaking Festival later this term.

UNICEF Paddington's Postcards

Dear Lighthorne Heath parents, carers,
teachers and governors,

Hello! My name is Paddington. Nice to meet you. Again! Did you see me having tea with Her Royal Highness The Queen during her Platinum Jubilee celebrations? It was so lovely to meet Her Royal Highness, although Mrs Brown did say that I need to improve my table manners,

and try not to drink from the tea pot... Oh, dear! Wasn't it wonderful to find out that Her Majesty loves marmalade sandwiches too?!

You may remember from when I wrote to you back in February, that I have been making new friends at a charity called UNICEF.

UNICEF helps children around the world. Mrs Westwood got in touch with our friends at UNICEF, and they told me about some of the children around the world that UNICEF helps.

I've been very busy travelling around the world, and sending postcards to the children at Lighthorne Heath Primary School. The Lighthorne Heath UNICEF Ambassadors have been sharing the postcards with all of the other children in the school assemblies. Now, Mrs Westwood and I thought that it would be lovely to share them with our wonderful parents, carers and governors too so that you can also find out about other children and their families around the world. Now, it will be an adventure of discovery for us all!

With love from Paddington

Hello Friend

This month, Mrs Johnson has been telling me about all the fun children are having playing football at school in Nepal.

Nepal has the tallest mountain on Earth, called Mount Everest, which rises to 8,484m. In the UK our tallest mountain is called Ben Nevis, which is 1,344m high. It's six times shorter than Everest!

This afternoon, Judy and I drew a mountain on a piece of paper, then we cut it out and copied it six times to see the difference in height between the two mountains. Mount Everest is very, very tall.

In Nepal they enjoy playing cricket and football. I play football just like Shital, who goes to a school in Nepal that is supported by UNICEF. I hope you enjoy learning about Shital and her country in this month's pack.

With love from

Nursery and Reception

Mrs Hartley's and Mrs Manley's Nursery and Reception class hero this week is Alma for her lovely seaside painting. She really concentrated, and gave it a good go. Alma didn't feel very confident about cutting out the pictures but, with a little bit of help, she persevered. Additionally, Alma has been contributing to class discussion and working well with others.

Have a go

Year 1/2/3

Mrs Hill's and Miss Singh's hero this week is Blake who has really impressed us with his enthusiasm towards our class topic.

He has really enjoyed sharing his ideas with the class and wrote a super 'Wanted Poster' to help find the dinosaur that had escaped from our class garden. Well done Blake!

Year 4/5/6

Mrs Cox's hero this week is Amy. I was so impressed with her participation in our workshop with the RSC. She managed to learn all her lines, worked well with a partner and encouraged the other children in her group. Fantastic team work Amy!

Platinum Jubilee Reading Challenge

We are so pleased to congratulate a group of children this week who have completed the Platinum Royal Reading Challenge. These children successfully read at least 6 nights a week over 4 weeks. ## Mental Health in Schools Team (MHST)

Tips For Wellness:

Caring

You may recognise the expression "it is better to give than receive", but did you know this is backed up by research?

People who are kind and compassionate see clear benefits to their wellbeing and happiness. They may even live longer. Kindness and caring can also help reduce stress and improve our emotional wellbeing.

Caring and kindness is choosing to do something that helps others or yourself, motivated by genuine warm feelings. Being caring can also help others to feel less lonely. This week is Loneliness Awareness Week. With this in mind, we're suggesting that we all try to help others once a day for a week and see if it makes a difference to how we feel.

For every day this week (or even just on one day), do one of the following:

- Ask a friend how they are
- Write someone a handwritten thank you note
- Help out at home with the chores
- Ask your class teacher if they need any help with school tasks

Key Dates this month:
Pride Month

Tourette's Awareness Month
13th Cupcake Day for Alzheimer's
15th-20th Learning Disability Week
15th - 29th Loneliness Awareness Week
18th Autistic Pride Day
