Dear parents and carers,

An eventful week in school as we have been preparing for potential wider opening, dependent on the position and the Government's further advice and directions from the beginning of June.

As you will have seen from the very detailed letter sent yesterday by Mrs Westwood, there has been a very complex and comprehensive Risk Assessment prepared to ensure that any phased re-opening is well-managed and safe. School has been re-organised to accommodate necessary changes to make it as safe as possible for all. I'm attaching a few photographs below.

Wishing you all a peaceful and enjoyable half term. We will need to see what the new term brings us when we hear further after June 1st. As ever, thank you all so much for your support during closure so far-you continue to do an amazing job supporting your children.

Vulcan Class

★ We have some real-life super heroes in our class!

Lewis found a baby bird... we placed him in a tree near his nest!

We found a baby bird that fell out his nest! we placed him by the tree by the hope room corner back for him!

Whilst out on there daily walk,
Lewis and Toby found a baby bird that had fallen out of his nest. Very carefully, the boys kindly picked him up and put him back in the tree near the nest where he could be much safer. Great work boys, well done! ★

PIC-COLLAGE

Vulcan Class

Well done Vulcan class for all of your hard work this week!

The collage features several pieces of student work:

- Maths: Worksheets on balance scales, bar charts, and number problems. One problem asks: "What is the value of the 7 digit in 10?"
- Literacy: A 'Handwriting Practice' sheet with the title 'Thyia, There and Then' and a paragraph of cursive writing.
- Mental Health Awareness Week: Multiple posters with the theme 'I Am an Amazing Person!'. One poster includes a drawing of a rainbow and a pot of gold, and another features a drawing of a tent with the text 'I am playing on my swings'.
- Self-Care: A poster titled 'How Can You Be Kind to Yourself?' with a drawing of a girl and several hearts.

As well as some fabulous Maths and Literacy, we have been thinking about our mental health as part of Mental Health Awareness Week

It has been lovely to see lots of you recognising how wonderful you are and learning about how you can be kind to yourself to keep your mind healthy

Valkyrie Class

In Valkyrie class this week:

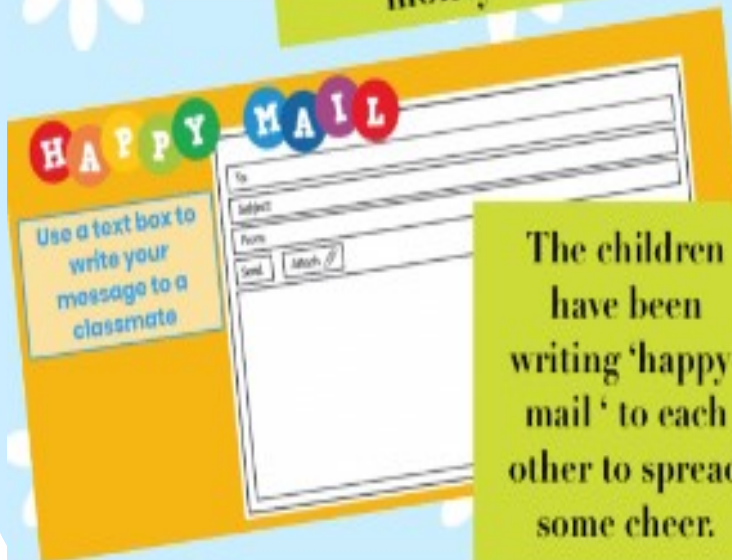

We learnt more about the artists Damien Hirst and Frida Kahlo.

We looked at a quote and thought more deeply about its meaning.

Year 4 explored money.

The children have been writing 'happy-mail' to each other to spread some cheer.

Sera made a sculpture of a wine glass using wire!
